1. The system shall check how many seats are available within 10 seconds.

2. The system shall provide a login interface for the librarian.

3. The system shall display the library schedule, the available seats, the offered services and notice-board on the main page of librarian's interface.